The FORMAT WAR BETWEEN Blu-ray and HD DVD is in full swing. .come to the sad realization that most people will never buy HD movies on disc. But that's really bad for business, isn't it? Maybe not, but this is not a problem for those who work in the field of multimedia. Most people don't watch HD video on their computers and therefore don't buy high definition discs to play. But if you think that you are the only one who should do something, then you are wrong.
